

Social Work

Associate in Arts Degree

Why Social Work?

Social Work is a profession for those with a passion to help others. Most social workers enter the profession because they want to improve the well-being of people and society. It is an excellent career choice for those who care about social justice and human dignity and enjoy working with diverse populations. Additionally, Social Work explores social environments as well as a person's physical and mental position in those environments. It challenges students to develop empathy, compassion, caring, and intuition. It also asks students to challenge social injustice and strive to find answers to hard situations. Students who want to be on the front lines of helping others would be very well suited in social work.
